Dear Carnation Parents and Caregivers,

As we complete the second month of school, we are planning for Fall Conferences. Conferences will be held in person on Friday, November 18th; Monday, November 21st; and Tuesday, November 22nd. Your child's teacher will provide the link you will need to access the conference schedule.

Conferences are an opportunity for you to learn more about your child's individual progress in school, both socially and academically. It is also a time for the teacher to share recent assessment information, the quarterly progress report, and set goals with you and your child for the first half of the school year.

Conference scheduling will be online, and your child's teacher will send you a link and directions so that you may set a conference time that works best for you. If you need assistance with the online scheduling process or are unable to access the system, please contact your child's teacher.

We ask that you make every effort to attend your scheduled conference time. If you are unable to make your time, please contact the school office at 425-844-4550.

As always, we appreciate the partnerships we have with all our Carnation Elementary families.

Warmly,

Terri Bookey
